

ATI Physical Therapy Expands in Washington with new Seattle Clinic

BOLINGBROOK, Ill. (November 28th, 2017) - ATI Physical Therapy, the nation's largest physical therapy provider, is proud to announce the opening of its 16th clinic in the Seattle area. The Seattle – SW Barton St. clinic is located at 2600 SW Barton Street, Suite D3 in West Seattle. The new Seattle – SW Barton St. clinic offers the community access to physical therapy, sports medicine and workers' compensation services from the nation's leading physical therapy provider.

"ATI Physical Therapy is excited to announce the opening of its Seattle – SW Barton Street location," said Mark Bouma, Regional Director for ATI Physical Therapy - Washington. "This will be a critical location for an otherwise under-served part of the community. ATI is committed to being the leader in the physical therapy industry and we are thrilled to have clinic director Nicholas Hughes, a talented physical therapist and West Seattle resident, deliver superior care and service in every facet of the patient experience. We look forward to supporting and caring for the West Seattle community!"

Leading patient care at Seattle – SW Barton St. is lead clinician Dr. Hughes PT, DPT, CSCS.

Dr. Hughes graduated from The University of Washington in 2011 with a B.A. in Psychology. As a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) he spent the following year managing a strength and conditioning program for youth athletes. He went on to earn a Doctorate of Physical Therapy from The University of Washington, and is a tried-and-true Husky! His clinical experience includes treating patients for pre- and post-operative care, musculoskeletal pain, work conditioning, FCE/PCE, and postural/body mechanics education for further prevention of injury. Dr. Hughes enjoys working with a diverse range of patients and particularly enjoys helping them return to their prior level of function. He uses a variety of techniques to do so, and continues his education to keep abreast of new information/techniques in his field.

Known for high quality of care and exceptional results, ATI provides personalized treatment plans and a hands-on approach to physical therapy and sports medicine. First appointments with all ATI clinics are scheduled within 24-48 hours, and early morning and evening hours are available to accommodate patient schedules. Rehabilitation services include manual therapy, therapeutic exercise, strength training, cardiovascular conditioning, sports-specific training, and therapeutic modalities, such as ultrasound and electrical stimulation.

ATI offers expanded hours and complimentary screenings, plus accepts virtually all major insurance carriers. Unique to the industry, ATI's dedicated in-house research department aims to improve patient outcomes through basic science, research and evidence-based medicine. This includes the ATI Patient Outcomes Registry, a collection of data that supports an innovative approach to physical therapy that improves awareness of patient outcomes and how the rehabilitative process can impact patients' quality of life.
