

ATI Physical Therapy Opens 10 New Clinics, in 6 States in December, Closing Out Another High-Growth Year

Every 3.5 business days in 2019 ATI opened a new clinic, bringing yearly total to 69

BOLINGBROOK, Ill., (Dec. 11, 2019) – ATI Physical Therapy (ATI), one of the nation's largest providers of physical therapy services, is proud to announce a tremendous year of growth with 69 total clinic openings throughout the country, including 10 new clinics opening this month alone. This figure, along with significant performance data from the rest of 2019, shows notable progress for the company, as measured by key metrics of new clinic openings and same-store growth.

Throughout October and November of 2019, 14 clinics opened across the country, including seven new clinic locations over the course of 10 days in Texas and South Carolina, two states which ATI has seen an increased need for physical therapy services, along with Michigan, Arizona and points in between. ATI attributes its growth and continued progress to results-driven, patient-centered care, along with delivering a trusted experience that patients expect and can rely upon.

"For me, opening new clinic locations is exciting. It's an opportunity to bring needed physical therapy services to more people to help improve their health and quality of life. These openings reflect the proven, measurable results and value that physical therapy provides throughout the country," said Labeed Diab, Chief Executive Officer of ATI. "I'm proud to lead an organization that contributes to consistent, high standards of care and helps patients understand the benefits of physical therapy. While these recent accomplishments are a result of ATI's collective hard work and clinical excellence over many years, we continue to find ways to improve our organization every day for the benefit of our patients and team members."

"A sign of a healthy organization is its ability to grow," said Nate Bard, Chief Growth Officer. "ATI is on a great track for continued growth and is headed towards leading the industry in changing how consumers think about and utilize physical therapy services."
